Sho-Ban School Receives Science Mini-Grant

May 27, 2010: The Shoshone-Bannock Jr./Sr. High School recently received notification that it was the recipient of an Idaho National Laboratory (INL) Teacher Mini-Grant in the amount of $1940.

The grant will be used to provide the middle school science classes with more hands-on activities using materials such as mineral kits, test tubes, flasks and mixing trays, said Michelle Guzman, middle school science teacher.

"I'm really excited about the award. There is a stipulation where next year I will need to report on how this award improved my teaching of science," she said.

The INL funding is to further Science, Technology, Engineering and Mathematics (STEM) education in Idaho. Earlier this month, the school received a $9873 STEM grant.
